

Just a Little of This & That

Change Your Mind

Timothy Brownhill of Puente, secretary of the Southern California Editorial Association, states that he can see nothing wrong in the beauty parade at Long Beach and urges that the parade be held in spite of the fact that he, himself, will be unable to attend. Having known Timothy for a long time, think it will be necessary to go down to Long Beach that day, not to see the parade, but just to meet Timothy, for it's certain he'll change his mind. Nobody knows that man better than his wife and myself. Of the issue Editor Brownhill says in his Puente Journal:

Some Long Beach folks object to a bathing girl parade being held in their city on the grounds of so-called immorality. It is, in the writer's estimation, altogether owing to the way one looks at it. "As a man thinketh, so is he," say some—and it is not far from the truth. While we do not believe in unnecessary exhibition of the nude either in art or life—there is nothing more beautiful than a clean, orderly, artistic pose of God's greatest handiwork—the human form, as seen in many of our bathing girl beauties attired in a modern bathing suit. If left to a general vote of men and women the bathing girl parades as heretofore held at Long Beach would be overwhelmingly endorsed as being orderly, decent, moral—and well worth seeing. Fortunately, those who think otherwise are not forced to attend. And as long as that is the case we see no good reason why those who want the parade should not have them even though, as is the case, the Journal editor will not be there to see it.

Pioneers

Over at Redlands growers of citrus fruit are organizing to fight Jack Frost the coming winter, while throughout Southern California there is greater preparation everywhere.

Citrus growers here may be well referred to as pioneers in the orchard heating methods, for when growers in other sections laughed at them they kept right on with the good work and as a result local groves produced the greatest result in Southern California.

W. B. Cavers was probably the first man here to become thoroughly conversant with the idea of orchard heating. Back in 1913 Mr. Cavers equipped one of his groves with heaters, and although the heaters didn't have capacity enough to burn all night, he saved some fruit and protected his trees from serious damage. Liberty Groves Operating Corporation has also done a lot of pioneering work under the direction of T. R. Woodbridge, ably assisted by Superintendent H. G. Tinsley, while the Stewart Holdings under the direction of W. K. Beattie has entered into the work with determination. There are no doubt other organizations and individual growers who assisted in the pioneering days and although these hot summer days do not call to mind frost of the winter months, the fact that Redlands growers, taken as a whole, have not entered into the idea enthusiastically until this year, it calls to mind the fact that many growers in other communities and some right here at home have made light of the efforts of local men during the years the orchard heating development has been going on.

Upland growers probably appreciate more than others the valuable aid of W. C. Scheu. For many months he worked to develop an orchard heater that would produce more heat and less smoke. At first growers thought smudge was what was needed, but Mr. Scheu was very firm in the opinion that more heat and less smoke would more readily solve the problem. As a result we have the Scheu orchard heater, with an extensive warehouse located here from which vast shipments are being made each week in preparation for the coming winter.

With many months ahead before the orange crop will again be shipped to market, it is perhaps out of place to talk about prospects. Word from Florida is to the effect that there will be about a fifty per cent crop of oranges, while here it looks like another excellent year. Of course, there are a lot of things that can happen to an orange crop between now and next February or March, but with the fruit set on the trees in fine shape and with very

LONE HILL TO BE SCENE OF RODEO AND PAGEANT

CUCAMONGA MEN PRO- CEED WITH PLANS FOR BIG DAY

Reo Sedan to Be Given Away Monday, September 7, Lone Hill to Be Tarraced, Race Course to Be Built

Lone Hill, famous in the annals of this section, is to be the scene of a rodeo, chariot races and pageant on Monday, September 7th, when men of Cucamonga will stage their pageant.

Lone Hill is to be terraced and developed into a natural amphitheatre along the west side, while down below the hill will be the rodeo grounds, and around the exterior of the rodeo grounds the race course, over which chariot and running races will be staged on the famous day.

Work of clearing the land for the big event and terracing Lone Hill has already been started under the supervision of the men of Cucamonga, and each committee working on the pageant plans reported excellent progress at the meeting of the Cucamonga Service Club held last night at The Sycamores.

Twenty-seven members were present and five new members were admitted to the club, bringing the membership up to thirty-three. In the absence of Sam Rowe, the president, Cowboy Tracy of the Morris pharmacy presided, and a very interesting meeting was held.

Reports from the different committees were read and showed that everyone was doing his part toward making the Cucamonga Pageant and Rodeo a success. A Reo Sedan will be given to the person holding the lucky button, every button being numbered, and George Bunker of the Reo sales rooms was there with a fine shiny sedan that proved so attractive twenty-five buttons were sold on the spot.

After the lively business meeting community singing was enjoyed with Jack Howe at the piano, and the meeting left everyone with a spirit of pep and enthusiasm and a determination to work hard for the success of the pageant, the ultimate object being a Bigger and Better Cucamonga.

Among those present were Editor Baker of the Cucamonga Times, Dale Rickert, James Sharp, Joe Vizio, Ben Wilson, O. P. Whitney, H. Wentworth, Herb Williams, J. McDonald of the Ontario Herald, F. Lewis, Rollin McKenneth, Jack Baldwin, Walter Buhler, V. Davis, Harry DeBarber, G. B. McCormick, Charles Motesinger, Ralph Mitchell, Fred Owens, Roy Parkins, Ernest Hall, Jack Howe, J. Johns, Walter Kincaid, John Klusman, George Klusman, J. Larson, J. McKenneth, F. Martinez, J. Belcher and H. Haus.

FAMILY ROW AGAIN IN POLICE COURT

Further airing of the differences between the families of Charles Axley and Charles Warrelman of Ontario, brothers-in-law, was seen today with the filing in Judge George R. Holbrook's court of claims and counter claims.

The two families recently came into the limelight when Mrs. Warrelman, Axley's sister, filed a criminal complaint in Judge George R. Crane's court charging her brother and his wife, Mable Axley, with assault and battery. On recommendation of Deputy District Attorney Stanley Mussell, the charges against the Axleys were dismissed on their promise not to return to molest Mrs. Warrelman and keep away from her home, 1044 Washington Street, Ontario.

Directly on the heels of this, however, Mr. Axley filed in the local justice court a suit against Mr. Warrelman for the collection of $48.48, alleged to be due for groceries, sold the latter by the former. Mr. Axley is represented by Attorney Leland S. Davidson. Following the filing of this action, Mr. Warrelman, through his attorney, Archie D. Mitchell, has entered a general denial of the claim in which he sets forth that Mr. Axley owes him the sum of $150 for room and board covering a period of 15 weeks at the rate of $10 a week.

UPLAND CITRUS CONTRACT LET TO CAMPBELL

MAIN PLANT OF NEW EN- TERPRISE TO COST $106,500.00

New Building to be of Rein- forced Concrete. Minor Con- tracts to Be Let at Later Date

Main contract for the erection of the new packing house of the Upland Citrus Association, at Third Avenue and A Street, has been let to the Campbell Construction Company of Ontario, whose bid was for $106,500. It was announced today. The contract calls for the completion of the structure by Nov. 1.

The new building, which will be one of the largest and most modern of its kind in California, will be of reinforced concrete construction. As soon as the building is completed, the mechanical equipment will be installed, and by the middle of December the plant will be in a position to turn out a total of eight cars of oranges a day. The contract let to the Campbell Company does not include the electric wiring and other minor contracts, which will be let later.

With the excavation of some 14,000 cubic yards of dirt already virtually completed, actual work of constructing the new building is expected to be under way in the immediate future. The Campbell Company built the plants of the West-Ontario Citrus Association, the Citrus Fruit Association of Ontario, and the San Antonio Community Hospital.

The dimensions of the main building, which will be connected with a box-making plant by overhead passageway across Third Avenue, will be 153x221 feet. It will have a frontage of 221 feet on A Street and 163 feet on Third Avenue.

ROTARY CLUB BREAKS RECORD

"Vacation Days" might well be given as a title for the Rotary luncheon program at The Sycamores today when all records for attendance at a regular meeting were broken, the attendance of guests and visiting Rotarians from other cities bringing the total attendance up to over fifty.

Merton E. Hill, of Chaffey Union High School, just home from Berkeley, where he has been on the faculty during the summer session of the University of California, told of his experiences there. The great advancement of the University and the growth of the Bay District in general, together with his attendance at Rotary Clubs made up his talk.

Dr. "Bob" Stone, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, told of his vacation trip to the Yosemite, the first since he rode a bicycle to the same point thirty years ago. His experiences in the neighborhood of Santa Barbara during a quake was decidedly interesting, for he told of how it appeared that both front wheels on his sedan had collapsed and it was only after noticing that everything else in the neighborhood was rocking that he and his family discovered it was a quake that caused all the trouble.

HOME FROM MOTOR TRIP IN THE NORTH

Back on the job again is Chief of Police J. F. Sawyer, who with his wife and son, Robert, has been motoring through the north part of the state enjoying a two-weeks' vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer and their son drove over 1800 miles during their holiday, and visited Santa Barbara, Fresno, San Francisco, Stockton, Sacramento and Eureka.

Fishing is good almost everywhere in the vicinity of Bridgeport, Mono County, Cal., according to recent reports received from the touring department of the National Automobile Club. Many limits of trout are being brought in daily in that district, mostly all caught on fly. Virginia Lakes, Green Lakes and Twin Lakes are considered the best at this time and these places are not crowded with fishermen.

During the month of August the prayer meetings for the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches of Upland will be held in the Presbyterian Church. For this week the subject is to be, "Jesus, the Bread of Life." The scripture lesson will be the sixth chapter of John. The time of the meeting is 7:30 Wednesday evening.

UNIFORM BASIS IS PLAN OF ENGINE'RS

Regarded as an important move toward the establishing of uniform fees for practicing civil engineers in this vicinity, Howard L. Way, president of the San Bernardino chapter of the American Association of Engineers, has appointed a committee of six members to investigate the situation and report at the next monthly meeting of the organization with recommendations on a schedule of fees for engineering work.

The committee appointed by Mr. Way consists of Charles L. Foulke, San Bernardino, chairman; A. C. Fulmore, Riverside; D. H. Crane, Elsinore; Henry Garrett, Ontario; C. S. Hinckley, Redlands; M. A. Woods, San Bernardino.

Is Discussed at Length
The movement was discussed at some length at the last meeting of the organization in Redlands and it was determined that engineering work could be carried on in this district to greater advantage and harmony were uniform fees established. Accordingly, Mr. Way, as president, was instructed to appoint a committee to make an investigation and have recommendations ready for the next meeting of the chapter.

The committee will gather information from other sections of Southern California and from national headquarters of the organization concerning fees.

Said Important Step
The move is regarded by the San Bernardino chapter to be one of the most important steps that has yet been undertaken by the chapter.

The members of the San Bernardino chapter agreed at the last gathering of the organization that such action was a necessary move for the good of the engineers in this section and the public.

ATTENTION, BASEBALL FANS!

One of the best games of the season will be played Friday night at 7:15, on the Y.M.C.A. diamond in Ontario, when our own club, the Lemon Growers Athletic Club, and a fast team from the Armstrong Nursery face each other for the second time. Come on out, fans, and help cheer your team on to victory.

The second game that night will be played by the Community All-Stars at Ontario against a picked team from Corona, which game should also produce some good baseball.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Graves spent the week-end at San Juan Capistrano, where they purchased a beautiful lot on the Palisades overlooking the ocean. They intend to build a beach bungalow at an early date.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 20, IS GIFT BOOK DAY AT LIBRARY

"Give a book that you have read and enjoyed." Now that the book fund is practically exhausted and another apportionment from city funds will not be available until after January first, it seems fitting during the month of August to have a donation of books from the citizens of Upland. For several years past it has been the custom to have an open day at the library for this special purpose in honor of the opening of the Upland library as a free public library in August, 1913. August 20th has been chosen for open day, and books will be gladly accepted at that time or before or even after that date. The date chosen is on a band concert night and open house will be kept until ten o'clock, thus giving everyone custom to visit, and to give a book that they have enjoyed.

The library this year has been under heavy expense with the building of the magazine room in the basement, putting linoleum on the lobby and the boys' and girls' department floors, adding some new chairs, and shades for part of the windows, painting the outside and tinting and varnishing on the inside and employing a trained assistant. However, these were necessary things to be done and are greatly appreciated by all concerned.

And so keep the library in mind, pick out a good book, tuck it under your arm on the 20th and make a visit to the library.

Monthly Report
Statistics this past month show a total circulation of 3700, 1100 being credited to the County Free Library and 2600 to the City of Upland; 364 of the grant total is of the circulation of magazines. But 34 new members registered, making the smallest registration in some time; 24 were withdrawn, leaving 2523 in good standing. Book records show 7210 on the shelves or in circulation, 68 having been added during the month and 12 withdrawn; 40 were rebound and 130 mended. Eight volumes of magazines were also bound. The attendance on Sundays was 135.

Examination of applicants for county grammar school teaching certificates will take place all this week, according to Miss Ida M. Collins, County Superintendent of Schools, who stated that the examinations would take place in the library of the Sturges Junior High School, at Eighth and E Streets, San Bernardino.

At least fifty persons are expected to take the test. Last year 61 took it, although only 17 of them passed.

Miss Collins says that applicants must be high school graduates, or have the equivalent of the completion of a four-year high school course, and must be 18 years old in order to be eligible for a certificate.

Each applicant must also file with the County Superintendent of Schools upon entering the examination, a certificate of health dated within 30 days previous to the examination and evidence of their education and teaching experience, if they have had any. A two-dollar fee is charged for entering the examination.

Monday will be devoted to registration, grammar and composition, geography and reading. Tuesday the test will cover arithmetic, spelling and defining, United States history and civics, and elementary bookkeeping. The third day of the examinations is scheduled to be devoted to English and American literature, physiology, methods and school law. The fourth day tests on algebra, drawing, general history, physics, chemistry or biology. It is required to take the test only on one science. Friday's program includes music, penmanship and oral examinations, if such are necessary.

It is said that certificates will be issued to those passing the examinations, on the last day of the work.

Miss Janet Stone, general secretary of the Girls' Work Organization in the Chaffey district, is spending this week at Santa Catalina Island attending a girl scout conference.

Santa Barbara Needs Lift That She May Rebuild Outfall Sewer, Temporary School Houses, St. Francis Community Hospital, Welfare Center Prove Problem

Business Men Able to Rebuild and Finance Themselves But Find It Difficult to Establish Outfall Sewer and Charitable Institutions Immediately

Wednesday night of this week men and women of the entire county will gather at the county seat to consider the request of the California Development Association for $1,100,000 to help Santa Barbara in her time of need.

This county's share, based on population, will be $26,230. The Development Association's request first went to the San Bernardino City Chamber of Commerce and Secretary Royal Mack has called a meeting for Wednesday night to consider the request.

Mr. Mack and Leon Atwood of San Bernardino asked the newspaper editors of the county to go with them to Santa Barbara on Monday, view the conditions in the city, talk with the men of Santa Barbara, and then come back and tell the readers of their respective publications of the conditions in Santa Barbara.

First it is well to explain that the California Development Association is in simple language a state Chamber of Commerce and Santa Barbara men asked the officials of the association to confer with them on the proposed plan of raising the sum of $1,100,000.

As a result, the Development Association took on the work after cutting down the amount from $1,450,000.

Santa Barbara men have before them one of the biggest jobs that any set of business men have ever undertaken in a city with 35,000 inhabitants. In the earthquake at Santa Barbara five weeks ago yesterday there was more earthquake damage done than in San Francisco in 1906, and when you consider that Santa Barbara has but 35,000 population and the county but 52,000, the problem before those men is indeed serious.

At first men of the city believed that the city and county could take care of its own troubles and although many offers of aid from all over the United States were made, Santa Barbara sent back word of appreciation but stated that indications were that the city and county could shoulder the load and come back a better city than ever before.

When you consider that the estimated damage on State street, the main business center, is $10,000,000 and the damage to public and charitable institutions is $5,000,000, you can readily realize that the men who are trying to solve the $10,000,000 problem have all they can handle, and that they must have some help with the charitable and public institutions.

When a call is made for this $26,230 people of this county are going to want to know what it is to be used for, and so newspaper men went to Santa Barbara Monday to find out.

Men of Santa Barbara state that they can solve the most of their problems but they have one or two which must be solved with money immediately, and there is absolutely no way in which they can get the money and they believe that their friends and neighbors will be willing to help them.

It is very evident that one of the main causes of the serious damage to Santa Barbara's buildings was the lack of a proper building ordinance and the rigid enforcement of that ordinance. Buildings properly built had only the plastering cracked, as for instance the Daily News building.

ing and a lot of others which do not show damage of any sort. But the damage is there and a condition exists which must be remedied or one of our finest communities must be set back from five to ten years in its progress.

Santa Barbara can care, for its troubles in time, but there are a few things which must be cared for immediately if the poorer class are to be cared for.

The St. Francis Hospital is a community hospital on somewhat the same plan as our own San Antonio Community Hospital. It had a capacity of 100 beds, was a non-profit organization and cared for the folks who were down and out, and in all emergency cases was called on to serve the people. The property has a mortgage against it and the building is a total wreck and must be taken down to the ground. If the building wasn't there at all it would be much cheaper to build.

Two years ago Santa Barbara floated a bond issue of $200,000 for grammar schools but today three of her largest grammar schools are wrecks, and seven smaller schools must be repaired. Some 1500 children are out in the street as far as schooling is concerned and a portion of this money is to be used to provide temporary schools to serve until new buildings can be erected. There isn't any method in school conduct by which large amounts of money can be procured immediately to serve in emergency.

The outfall sewer is another problem before the city which must be cared for and is being cared for, but for which funds must be provided immediately, in order to assure sanitary conditions for the city.

The Welfare Center which in Santa Barbara has served in a most wonderful work for the poorer classes, must be rebuilt. Here the charitable associations are grouped and this institution must be maintained.

Needs a Lift
Santa Barbara men and women need a lift. One of the men with whom we talked said, "We believed we could solve the problem right here at home, but we have had to confess that assistance from our good friends and neighbors in California becomes necessary. We didn't like to accept aid outside this state because we here have enough pride in the state to firmly believe that we can solve our own problems."

"Santa Barbara's damage is one-third her assessed valuation but by floating a county and city bond issue we can take care of county and city property and the most of our business men can refinance themselves. It is said that God loved the poor folks, if he hadn't, he wouldn't have made so many of them. These people need assistance and with our people straining every nerve to solve their own problems, we feel it proper to ask our friends and neighbors to assist us in caring for our folks who are less fortunate in having some of this world's goods."

The Problem
Unless the charitable institutions are brought back on an operating basis within a few weeks, and unless temporary quarters are provided for school children there is going

How to Do It

Men of the state interested in things political are endeavoring to pick a man who will defeat Governor Friend W. Richardson in the coming election in 1926. Although the Governor hasn't said so, it is generally believed that he will be a candidate, and those who are anxious to sit in on state affairs are looking for a man who can win.

Never in the history of the state are those who are "out" going to have so hard a job to get "in." Governor Richardson did just what he said he would. He cut down the cost of operation of state government, and yet when serious emergencies arose there was plenty of money on hand to care for the emergency. The Governor has the respect of the real, honest-to-goodness men and women of the state, for the Governor and Mrs. Richardson are just good, old-fashioned home folks, endeavoring as best they know how to make good in their work of giving to the people real government at a reasonable cost.

E. P. Clarke, one-time editor of an Ontario newspaper and at present editor of the Riverside Press, and chairman of the State Board of Education, has an opportunity in his travels to hear a lot of political gossip, and in reviewing conditions the other day he gave to Press readers the following:

"The political campaign for 1926 in California is nearly a year away, but the open season for candidates promises to be a long one so far as the Republicans are concerned. The Democrats are very silent and there has not even been a suggestion regarding a possible Democratic candidate for Governor; possibly the explanation is that even the most optimistic Democrat cannot figure where that party has a 'look in' at the election. Republicans, however, are holding conferences and planning others and the newspapers, especially in San Francisco, are discussing candidates and political combinations. Far more interest has been shown in the north than in Southern California, but no doubt public interest in issues and candidates will gradually develop in this part of the state in the near future.

"The big problem of the anti-administration leaders in the Republican party just now is to unite on a candidate to make the race for Governor against Governor Richardson. The men most generally discussed in this connection are: Lieutenant Governor Young, State Superintendent Will C. Wood, John R. Quinn, former commander of the American Legion, C. L. Neumiller of Stockton, chairman of the Republican State Committee; J. L. McNabb, San Francisco attorney, and Judge Rex B. Goodell of San Bernardino, present Internal Revenue Collector. Possibly it is a mistake to place Goodell in the anti-administration group as he has indicated that he intends to make the race as an independent candidate; and opinions differ as to what effect his candidacy would have. Some think that he would split the so-called 'progressive' vote and ensure Richardson's nomination; others hold that he would cut in on the Richardson support in Southern California and thus aid the anti-administration candidate whoever he may be.

"There has also been intermittent talk regarding C. C. Teague, well-known fruit grower, or A. C. Hardison, head of the State Farm Bureau, as candidates but they have not been classified as to political alignment and little encouragement has been given by either of these gentlemen that he would consent to be a candidate even if strongly urged to do so. In fact, it has been reported that Mr. Teague has stated positively that he would not be a candidate but that does not prevent a good deal of talk regarding his availability. In fact the writer has heard some prominent anti-administration leaders say that if Teague or Hardison were put forward as the candidate of an element of the conservatives who are not enthusiastic over Governor Richardson, they would favor accepting him as the best means of accomplishing the defeat of the Governor.

"It was reported several weeks ago that Lieutenant Governor Young had been definitely settled on as the anti-administration candidate. But his selection by a group of 'progressive' members of the legislature is not accepted by other candidates and their friends; and the latest report is that a state wide conference will be held in San Francisco soon in an effort to bring about an agreement

The Woman of Today

By O. Lawrence Hawthorne

"A woman's place is in the home!" I sometimes hear it said.
With such a dictum I in part agree;
But woman's place is everywhere her dainty feet may tread.
And where she is she has full right to be.
By what crude law shall men presume to circumscribe the scope
Of women's interests? If home is theirs
To cherish and protect, indeed they find their only hope
In guiding all community affairs.
Home can no longer mean alone the house where children sleep,
For daily missions carry them afar;
If woman shall in modern times a mother's vigil keep
She then must meet conditions as they are.
I view with pride and boundless faith the women of today!
To business and to social life they give
That measure of refinement that must hold unfailing sway
Wherever Youth is learning how to live.

on some one man to make the race. Even such gathering, however, would have no official power of elimination; and the primaries are open to any man who can get the necessary number of names on his petition.

"Here is one interesting fact that may be developed by most any one who is a good 'listener' in politics. The Young people are quite sure Will Wood could not defeat Richardson, and the Wood people are equally confident Young could not win. Talk with close friends of both these gentlemen and they will pay a high tribute to the character and ability of the other and then they will wind up by saying, 'But he cannot beat Richardson.' This situation suggests that possibly both these factions might find it opportune to unite on some man who has not been prominently identified with any controversy with Governor Richardson.

"Here is another bit of political gossip: it is reported that some of the Richardson supporters are secretly encouraging the candidacy of Will C. Wood on the theory that the Governor would rather welcome Wood as a competitor in the primaries. As an offset to this rumor is the report that friends of Governor Richardson have assured Mr. Wood that he will have no further opposition from the administration regarding policies or appointments and that no administration candidate will be put in the field against him for state superintendent, if he will settle down and run for that position again instead of entering the race for Governor.

"If you will go to San Francisco and sit around the lobby of the Palace Hotel a while, you will hear all these rumors about candidates and others also.

"The contest over Lieutenant Governor may develop some interesting features. Senator Lyman M. King of Redlands and Senator Harry Chamberlain of Los Angeles are both announced candidates; and it was understood that the administration candidate would be Speaker Merriam of Long Beach. It is now rumored, however, that Merriam is going to run for Congress to succeed Congressman Lineberger who will make the race for the Senate against Shortridge.

"So far as issues are concerned Governor Richardson will undoubtedly make the race on his record as the 'economy governor'; and that issue will make a strong appeal. His opponents will no doubt claim that his economy has been poorly proportioned, that is has discriminated against education and public welfare; and that a better balanced budget calling for less money could easily be framed. An effort will undoubtedly be made to inject the Colorado River issue into the campaign in Southern California; and it is charged that the Governor was opposed to the metropolitan water district bill and to the reservations to the seven-state compact that were urged by Assemblymen Murray of Riverside and Finney of Imperial and adopted by the legislature.

This Colorado River issue might cut considerable ice in the counties of Los Angeles, Riverside and in the counties of Los Angeles, Riverside in Southern California, outside of those counties, the interest is not keen; and in the north, they know practically nothing about the matter."

The Suppression of Thought

(Pomona Bulletin)

Much has been said during recent years about the alleged suppression of free speech. It will impress the ordinary person, however, that people are usually able to say about what they want to without interference from the law. Of course, if a man gets up on a soapbox and urges his hearers to rise and overthrow the government by force and violence, he has gone over the line where free speech must end.

It will be alleged, however, that there is suppression of thought, if not by legal means, at least by the general pressure of social and business opinion. Not many editors, it is often declared, really say what they think about things. Ministers, it is said, are often forced to keep silent about things they feel ought to be preached about. Politicians, it is claimed, are compelled to yield to public sentiment in the same way.

It is often remarked that an original thinker whose ideas do not follow along the usual line, is hushed up by a kind of social ostracism.

The world is full of timid people who are fearful of any current of disapproval. There are too many newspapers, for instance, that keep still when they ought to speak about wrong conditions. There are ministers and politicians of the same type. It is only by an outspoken fight against wrong that the evils that afflict society can be removed.

Nevertheless, there are plenty of people who seem rather to enjoy knocking everything in sight, and it would seem as if criticism had a pretty free rein in this country. Sometimes people get tired of irresponsible criticism and knocking, and they show their disapproval of that spirit. Free criticism is a good thing up to a certain point, but it can be overdone.

The life of public men is often just one resolution after another. — Butland Herald.

Tested Recipes

The single salad course meal is becoming more and more popular in summer with housewives who take cognizance of the oft-repeated sentence, "All I want is a salad," spoken by the various members of their family.

Here are a few of the many tempting salads that are excellent to serve in hot weather.

Shrimp-and-Celery Salad
2 cups shrimp, 1½ cup celery, 2 tomatoes, mayonnaise dressing, celery hearts.

Cut the shrimp in small pieces. Add the celery, moisten with mayonnaise and serve on lettuce leaves in a large salad bowl. Put a border of tomato, cut in sections, and hearts of celery around the outside of the bowl. Serve with additional mayonnaise. This will make four generous portions. Tuna-fish, chicken, or crab-meat may be used instead of the shrimp.

Orange-and-Celery Salad
3 seedless oranges sliced, 1 cup diced celery, French dressing. Moisten the orange slices and the diced celery in French dressing. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves with additional French dressing poured over it. This makes four portions.

Egg-and-Asparagus Salad
1 cold hard-cooked egg, 4 stalks fresh or canned asparagus, Russian dressing. Lay the asparagus on a bed of crisp lettuce leaves. Slice the hard-cooked egg on top, and serve with a generous portion of Russian dressing. Individual serving.

Perfection Cabbage Salad
1 envelope gelatin, ¼ cup cold water, ½ cup weak vinegar, 1 pint boiling water, 1 cup finely chopped cabbage, ¼ cup sugar, ¼ cup pimentos, 2 cups chopped celery, 1 teaspoon salt.

Soak gelatin in cold water five minutes. To this add vinegar, boiling water, sugar, and salt. Strain and set in cool place. When beginning to stiffen, all remaining ingredients. Turn into a mold and chill. Serve with mayonnaise. This will be enough for six servings.

Cole-Slaw
1 pint chopped cabbage, ½ pint chopped celery, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 2 chopped pimentos, 2 hard cooked eggs, 1 cup cole-slaw dressing.

Cole-Slaw Dressing
¼ cup butter, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons sugar, ¼ teaspoon mustard, 1 cup vinegar, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon paprika.

Cream butter, add seasoning and beaten yolk of egg. To this add gradually hot vinegar, beating constantly. Cook over hot water until the mixture thickens. Let cool and stir in beaten white of egg. To this add the other ingredients and garnish with slices of hard cooked egg. If preferred, the eggs may be chopped and mixed with salad. Garnish with celery or parsley.

Cabbage-and-Nut Salad
Shred a small cabbage finely; to it add ¼ cup chopped nuts (peanuts are very good for this), and cover with cooked salad dressing. Serve cold on a bed of lettuce.

Cooked Salad Dressing
2 eggs, 1 tablespoon flour, 3 tablespoons sugar, ¼ cup vinegar, 1 cup top milk or cream, 1 teaspoon mustard, less if desired.

Put milk in double boiler but do not heat it. Beat together the other ingredients and add to the milk. Let cook just until it thickens. (Too long cooking will cause eggs to separate and the result will be a lumpy dressing.) Beat well. Melted butter or oil beaten in when dressing is entirely cooked improves flavor and texture.

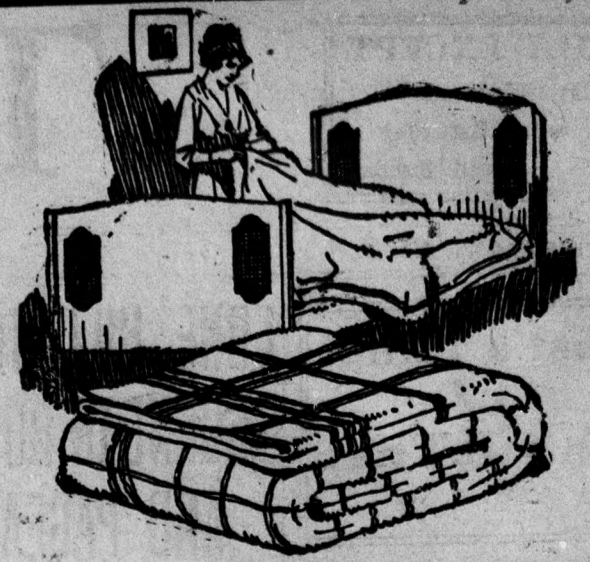

Cottage Cheese and Pimento Salad
Fill a rectangular tin mold with cold water in order to chill it, and to wet the surface. Pour the water out and line the mold with waxed paper. Fill it with alternate layers of seasoned cottage cheese and canned pimentos. Turn mold out on bed of lettuce leaves. Slice and serve with French dressing.

French Dressing
½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 4 tablespoons salad oil. Shake the ingredients thoroughly in a glass jar with a tightly fitting cover.

Tomato-Jelly Salad
1 can strained tomato, 1 teaspoon powdered sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 2-3 box gelatin softened in ½ cup cold water. Stew and strain tomatoes. Add seasoning, and pour over the softened gelatin. Pour into molds and chill. Serve with mayonnaise on a bed of lettuce leaves.

FAREWELL DINNER PARTY SATURDAY—

In honor of Miss Lillian Witta, who left on Sunday over the Santa Fe for York, Pennsylvania, her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Woltman, were hosts at a delightful dinner party given at their home on Second Avenue Saturday night.

Decorations on the dining table were vases of beautiful cut flowers and dainty favors were at each cover. A delicious menu was served, chicken being the piece de resistance. Guests invited to bid Miss Witta farewell were Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. W. Clyde Jones, Miss Helen Woltman and Junior Woltman. A delightful evening was spent and Miss Witta was the recipient of many good wishes for a pleasant vacation. She expects to remain east for the next three months.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED—

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Almquist (Miss Stella Wright) were hosts on Friday evening at their home on East Ninth Street at a charming affair, announcing the engagement of Miss Ina Wheatley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wheatley of Orion Street, Ontario, to Mr. Clarence Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Long, also of Ontario. Mr. Long's mother is the well-known singer, Princess Long, who has appeared so often before local audiences.

Several original games were played during the early part of the evening that caused much amusement, and when the time and hour were ripe, the cat was let out of the bag and the guests learnt of the engagement of Miss Wheatley and Mr. Long by pulling streamers from a large heart, which held the information that if they wanted refreshments to tug at the heart strings which would give them the

MANKEE—MAGILL WEDDING—

A wedding of charming simplicity was performed on Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Magill of West Sixth Street, Ontario, when their daughter, Miss Myrtle Calina Magill, became the bride of Mr. Charles William Manker, third son of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher H. Manker, Second Avenue, this city.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. R. S. Stone, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Upland, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the young couple. There were no attendants. The bride wore a gown of blue georgette, trimmed in cream-tinted lace, and her only ornament was a string of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. She carried a handkerchief of point lace which her mother had had at her own wedding.

Bouquets of pink gladioli and blue larkspur were used in effective display in the living room, where the ceremony took place, and baskets of pink and white rosebuds with ferns decorated the dining room where the wedding supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Manker left on their honeymoon, going direct to the Mission Inn at Riverside, from which point they will motor leisurely to many delightful places in Southern California. On their return they will make their home at San Marino, where their new house on La Mirada Avenue will be waiting for them.

Both the young couple are natives of Ontario, and graduated from Chaffee Union High School, their friendship dating from freshman days. The groom later attended the University of California, where he became a member of the Theta Xi fraternity. He is now in the designing department of the Batchelder-Wilson Tile Works in Los Angeles. Mrs. Manker has been attending the College of Music at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles for the past three years.

Among those attending the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Manker, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Magill, parents of the young couple; Mr. and Mrs. Hubert L. Manker, Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Benson, Mrs. Louisa Horst of Pomona, grandmother of the bride; Mrs. M. V. B. Bradford of Upland, grandmother of the groom; Miss Lulu Bradford, Robert Manker, Arba Magill, Mrs. Callie Horst of Pomona, Mrs. H. S. Gundry of Long Beach.

GLENDALE VISITOR RETURNS HOME—

Mrs. Charles Wing, former resident of Upland, but who now makes her home in Glendale, was a visitor here for a few days last week, returning on Sunday after a delightful stay.

BIRTHDAY DINNER AT CHAFFEE HOME—

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Chaffee entertained at dinner on Sunday in honor of their daughter, Mrs. Ion Wilson's birthday anniversary, the affair being given at their home on First Avenue.

Bouquets of dahlias grown by Mrs. Dale Clark of Los Angeles were very much admired, and the hostess also had baskets of gladioli in pretty decoration. A birthday cake featured the dinner, and covers were marked for Mr. and Mrs. Ion Wilson, Jay Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Clark, Miss Virginia Clark, Edwin Clark, Miss Ethel Kinney, all of Los Angeles; Ralph Chaffee of Compton, and the host and hostess.

GROUP OF YOUNG FOLKS HOLD FAIR

An interesting event was staged on Friday afternoon by several young people on Eighth Avenue, which not only brought them much amusement, but also added a little cash to their pockets.

An animal tent in which animals were on display and also for sale was under the direction of Roger Moore; ice cream and lemonade were sold by Phyllis and Jean Moore, and a prize candy booth was in charge of Ellen Benson. Admission was collected by Christine Benson, and about forty attended the "fair." A dance by Helen Taylor closed the performance, which was pronounced a decided success, and enjoyed by everyone, performers and audience alike.

OJAI AND VENTURA ROAD IS SCENIC MOTOR TRIP

Motorists desiring a one-day scenic tour from Los Angeles can do no better than to motor through the little Santa Clara Valley, over the easy grade of the Santa Paula Canyon, thence through the beautiful Ojai Valley, making a loop trip back to Los Angeles.

The route is via Sunset Blvd. to Hollywood, through Cajunga Pass, past Universal City to San Fernando Blvd. Six miles beyond the interesting town of San Fernando is the Newhall tunnel, and before entering same the motorist may see below him the old pass through which the stage coaches in early days traveled through the Santa Susana Mountains. Leaving the tunnel, the road gradually drops into Saugus and through Castaic Junction, five miles beyond. Here the Fillmore road turns west through the little Santa Clara Valley. Eight miles from Castaic, south of the boulevard, is the Camulos Ranch, famous historically. This ranch recently passed from the hands of the Del Valle family and under the new ownership the well preserved old ranch house and chapel may not be visited without passes.

Continuing the route to Fillmore, 56 miles from Los Angeles, an interesting trip can be made through the plant of the Ventura Refining Co. Ten miles beyond Fillmore is Santa Paula, then Sulphur Mountain Springs, where the motorist, if brave enough, may drink long draughts of sulphur water. Sulphur Mountain has a very interesting feature inasmuch as crude oil flows from its scarred sides in such quantities that in numerous places it fills the ditch at the side of the road. There is a constant, steady seepage. Leaving this point, the highway rises to the summit, from which may be seen an inspiring and beautiful panorama of Ojai Valley with its orchard lands forming a veritable checkerboard, extending to the sea.

The little town of Ojai, first named Nordhoff, was burned down about six years ago, and has now been rebuilt and the Spanish architecture predominates. A long arcade fronts the main business blocks and is pleasant and cool on a hot day, while across the street is a shady park of beautiful sycamores and liveoaks which have been carefully preserved during the widening and changing of highways.

A crisp breeze from the ocean greets the traveler as he nears Ventura. A trip to the well-preserved Mission of San Buenaventura on the main street of this thriving city is well worth a visit. Leaving Ventura the motorist has a choice of three routes to Los Angeles, but the one via Conejo grade, being the shortest is the most popular. The road climbs to the top of the Conejo Grade, 22 miles from Ventura, and winds through several small valleys and drops sharply down into the San Fernando Valley. The view on both sides of the summit is superb, presenting an ever-changing vista of blue, purple and black mountain peaks.

Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Blaney, who have been the guests for the past month of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Blaney, West Ninth Street, left on Saturday for their home in Carizozo, New Mexico.

In an out of the way corner of a cemetery in Boston stands a brown board showing the marks of age and neglect. It bears this inscription: "Sacred to the memory of Eben Harvey, who departed this life suddenly and unexpectedly by a cow kicking him on the fifteenth of September, 1853. Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

"Does your wife often grieve because she threw over a wealthy man in order to marry you?" "She started to once, but I cured her in short order." "I wish you'd tell me how." "I started right in grieving with her, and I grieved harder and longer than she did."—Boston Transcript.

Fix Parking Limit

Parking of vehicles in the business section of the city for a longer period than two hours is prohibited under the provisions of an ordinance amending the city traffic laws, which was given first reading before the city council last night. The new ordinance also prohibits the parking of vehicles before the entrance of theatres during the time of performance or before the entrance to private dwellings at any time in the event the owners protest such parking. Prohibition of the act of leaving cars against the curbing of the center parkway of Euclid Avenue, already in force between Transit and E Streets, is extended two blocks farther north to G Street.

Parking of Vehicles in alleys in the fire district of the city is entirely prohibited, nor will it be permitted in any alley if traffic is thus blocked. At the time of a fire alarm, parking of vehicles in streets surrounding the block in which the fire occurs is prohibited except for firemen.

Talk Bond Issue

Tentative plans for a bond issue to finance an additional reservoir for the municipal water department and for new pipe lines and an additional well were discussed at this meeting. It is expected action in this regard will be taken at an early date.

The council authorized the entering into a lease with the Industrial Finance Company for a room at 117 South Euclid Avenue in the building of City Fire Hall No. 1, for a period of five years for $3600.

The council recommended that the street department take what steps are necessary and urge the co-operation of property owners in eradicating the troublesome "puncture weed," which was reported making headway in and about the city and threatened with becoming a menace.

Paralysis Fatal

Marking the first local fatality from what is said to be an infantile paralysis epidemic throughout the state particularly in Los Angeles and vicinity, Maxine Jane Figgins, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ora G. Figgins, 201 East H Street died Sunday night at the home of her sister, Mrs. M. G. Blackburn, 724 South Vine Ave.

The child's parents left a week ago for Rochester, Minn., where Mr. Figgins was to have undergone a major surgical operation this morning. The child appeared to be ailing when her parents departed, but her condition was not thought serious until last Wednesday, when she became delirious and was moved to the home of her sister. The child was a pupil at the Ontario Junior High School and is survived by 11 brothers and sisters. Private funeral services are to be held at Draper's chapel tomorrow morning with Dr. Chas. F. Seitter officiating. The remains are to be sent to Hardin, Neb., for interment.

Dr. Calvert L. Emmons, city health officer, stated last evening that there seemed no cause for undue alarm regarding the infantile paralysis situation in Ontario. He stated that in recent weeks there have been two other cases here recognized as such and two or three other doubtful cases, no other case proving serious. Health authorities have recommended that children be kept away from public gatherings and from associating with other children who may be ill from any cause.

Banker's House Looted

Daylight burglars who entered the home of George A. McCrea, president of the Ontario National Bank, 803 North Euclid Avenue, during the absence of members of the household, secured only $3.85 for their trouble, according to a report to the police yesterday.

After failing to gain entrance by boring holes around the lock on French doors at the rear, the burglars tore the screen from a window and got in by means of a jimmy, it is believed.

Members of the McCrea family were absent at the beach at the time of the robbery, and Mrs. Della Herrick, a maid, was away from the house the major portion of the day.

The lock on a desk belonging to the banker was broken, but apparently nothing taken from within. Solid silverware and other valuable articles were passed up by the thieves, who were apparently looking only for cash. The $3.85 belonged to Mrs. Herrick and was taken from a dresser drawer in her room on the second floor.

'Cellist Pleases

Mr. Waterman will be warmly welcomed back into Upland business circles again. He and Mrs. Waterman have lived here for many years and his friends are glad he has decided to return.

Mr. Lloy has not announced his plans yet for the future, but it is to be hoped he and his family will continue to make this city their home. They have made many friends during their stay and have taken an active part in the social and church life of Upland.

CORONER HOLDS 8 INQUESTS IN JULY

Eight coroner's inquests were held during the month of July and Coroner J. B. Hanna and his deputy, Emmett Waters, were called upon to investigate 21 additional sudden deaths to make one of the busiest months this office has had in years, a check disclosed yesterday.

No inquests were conducted over the bodies of heat prostration victims in the desert three weeks ago, physicians being willing to sign death certificates, but an investigation into each case was made by the coroner's office. Trips were made during the month to virtually every district in the county.

Returning on the night of June 30 from Bagdad, where an unidentified man was found dead from heat prostration and thirst, the coroner's office was immediately called to Deleze, where Etanislado Olivas was ground to death beneath the wheels of a freight train as he lay asleep on the tracks. The death was recorded as an accident.

On the afternoon of July 2 the body of James Amos Speck was found in the back room of a Court street, San Bernardino, building. Speck had taken his own life by slashing his throat with a razor.

On July 5 the inquest over the body of George Saunders was held. Saunders was shot down by Louis Grant after Saunders had attacked Constable J. S. Mahood as Mahood was seeking to place him in jail on an intoxication charge. Grant is now facing a charge of manslaughter as a result of the killing.

On July 7 the inquest was held over the body of James Monroe West, constable and city marshal of Needles, who was shot by William J. Slater. Slater and his pal, James R. Brown, are facing a charge of murder.

On July 8 an inquest was held over Wong How, Chinaman, who was killed when struck by a Pacific Electric train near Alta Loma.

An inquest was held to determine that Ava Estella Flood died from apoplexy at Needles on July 8.

An inquest was held on July 26 over the body of Howard Jarvis, of Los Angeles, who met death when his automobile was wrecked near Victorville.

The last inquest of the month was held Friday, July 31, over the body of Herbert H. Cook, who died from injuries sustained when an automobile truck overturned near Summit on July 29.

Mr. Stults served as chairman of the day.

It was voted at this meeting to send a member of the club's public affairs committee to a meeting to be held in San Bernardino relative to the raising of funds for the rehabilitation of earthquake stricken Santa Barbara. A. L. Davenport was selected.

Demand

IN the early days of the telephone, when the 16-mile circuit from Boston to Salem was the longest in existence, an old lady visited the Boston exchange and asked for a connection to Chicago so she could talk with her son.

The need for voicing thought to far-away places began with the nation's expanding activities. Long before the telephone art permitted it, long distance service was demanded. A national service was, from the beginning, the beacon of the telephone's founders, and the inspiration of the scientists and engineers whose achievements gradually overcame the obstacles to the transmission of human speech.

These conquered, national expansion has more and more been made possible, and the uncertainties of separation have diminished. Today any community in America can talk with any other so promptly and satisfactorily that men have difficulty in imagining a time when universal service was an ideal yet to be reached.

AUGUST TO BE WARM AND DRY

Father Ricard, "padre of the rains," of Santa Clara University, in his August forecast predicts that California will enjoy fair and warm weather generally throughout the month. Around the middle of the month, however, showers may fall in the mountainous district, according to the forecast, which follows:

Aug. 1, 2—Fair in California with some cloudiness, due to the arrival of a depression north and south. Also cloudiness along the northwestern coast and over Arizona, with light sprinkles.

Aug. 3, 4—Fair with morning clouds.

Rains For Mountains

Aug. 5, 6, 7—Disturbances of marked character arriving by north and south, causing a trough of low pressure over the plateau region. Thunderstorms over the Sierras and the Rockies, rain in those parts, Arizona and the Northwest included. Some cloudiness and possibly a sprinkle in parts of California. On the same dates, high pressure areas will set in centrally, making it cooler at first, but quickly turning into forest-fire weather.

Aug. 8, 9, 10—Fair everywhere on the coast and the interior. Warm wave continued.

Aug. 11—Arrival of a new depression mostly in the south and the plateau region. Hardly any effect in California.

Aug. 12, 13—Generally fair.

Aug. 14, 15, 16—Depressions of stern character will disturb the weather of the coast and reach far inland, causing cloudiness, thunderstorms, rains and refreshing coolness over the Northwest, Arizona and the plateau sections. A few clouds in California and possibly light rains over and near the mountainous districts. A high-pressure area will start on the 15th inst., at first producing coolness and then warmth.

Hot Spell Predicted

Aug. 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22—Generally fair and warm over the Pacific slope. Cool waves will fall from the sky on the 18th, 19th and 22nd insts., rapidly degenerating into heat waves.

Aug. 23, 24, 25, 26—Depressions of shallow depth to arrive via north and south, affecting especially Arizona and the high northwest, but little felt in California, where fair weather will predominate. On the same dates, high pressure effects such as coolness to begin with and warmth as the aftermath, will be noticed centrally, say in the Great Valley of California and round about.

Aug. 27, 28—Fair, under flying clouds.

Aug. 29—A minor depression will extend and intensify the Arizona low and possibly cause a sprinkle there. Nice weather in California.

Aug. 30, 31—Fair over the Coast and even up to the outskirts of the Rocky Mountains.

N. B.—Mild storms Sept. 1, 2, 6.

31 BLAZES OCCUR IN FOREST AREA

Thirty-one fires have started in the San Bernardino National Forest this year, these burning over approximately 900 acres largely of brush land, according to figures made available at the forestry office at the county seat. Of this number, 16 were man caused, the check disclosed.

This compares with 708 fires started in national forests in the state from Jan. 1 to July 20, the state figure being compiled at the office in San Francisco of District Forester Paul G. Redington. On this date last year 830 blazes were reported at forestry headquarters.

The figures most encouraging to officials in the service here, however, were those concerning the great decrease in man-caused blazes. While 556 of last year's 830 fires were caused through the carelessness of campers and others, but 176 of this year's 708 conflagrations are so classified.

Of the 31 fires started here this year, a number have been on private lands, though forestry officials assisted in putting them under control. It is estimated that of the 900 acres burned over, approximately 50 per cent was not in the San Bernardino National Forest.

History of forest fires, according to H. V. Beeks, executive assistant at San Bernardino, is that August and September are usually the periods when the most disastrous blazes start.

LOMIHO DEFENSE BEING PLANNED

Admittedly one of the most difficult murder cases with which local authorities have been confronted in many months, an inkling as to the fight to be made by the defense when Circo Lomiho goes to trial on Sept. 12 on the charge of murdering Andrew Barleta, a Filipino, whose body was found near the entrance of San Antonio Canyon, north of here, some months ago, has been given by Attorney Victor A. Berry of Ontario, one of the attorneys who will defend Lomiho.

Berry views the coming trial as one in which the defense will hold the advantage. Nothing has yet been proved to show that Lomiho is the slayer of Barleta, he declares.

Dispute Murder Location

"So far this case ends where the good detective story begins—with the mystery still unsolved," Berry stated. "They have not discovered where this man was murdered nor when he was murdered. If he was murdered in Los Angeles, where witnesses testify to seeing him last, how did the murderer get the body to Upland?"

"Lomiho, the defendant, cannot drive an automobile. If the man was murdered near the place where his body was found, how did the murderer lure him to that spot?"

Berry holds that the fact Sheriff W. A. Shay discovered that the 22-caliber automatic revolver found on the body of the slain man was purchased by Barleta from Joe Rosenblum Company of Los Angeles on November 10, 1924, the day Barleta is said to have arrived in Los Angeles from Santa Barbara, is an indication that Barleta expected trouble with somebody.

It is the attorney's theory that Barleta was seeking a woman and was killed in a fight over her.

Lomiho Tells Story

According to Lomiho's story he was told by Pedro Masacari, an acquaintance, that a man known as James Russell killed Barleta in an orange grove by striking him in the head with an automobile crank. Russell had previously set a trap for Barleta, using his wife as bait, according to Lomiho's story.

But on the other hand the state is carefully planning for the prosecution with evidence which has never been made public. Neither District Attorney George H. Johnson nor Sheriff Shay have given what they expect to be evidence that will convict Lomiho. While the case is expected to result in a hard legal battle the prosecution believes there is sufficient circumstantial evidence to convict Lomiho of murder.

OLD SCHOOL DAY FACTS RECALLED

Development of the public school system in San Bernardino County has made rapid educational strides forward the last six decades. Teaching salaries are much higher, schools are better equipped, and the curriculums are larger.

Salaries paid teachers in 1867, according to reports on file in the Hall of Records offices of Miss Ida M. Collins, county school superintendent, ranged from $28 to $34 per month. Board was included. But 16 teachers were employed in the 13 school districts and the student enrollment totaled 681.

Today the salaries of instructors in this county range from $133 to $175 per month. Board is not included. Exactly 863 teachers are employed in the 66 grammar and nine high school districts to instruct 17,449 students.

Six decades ago the school year varied from three months in some sections of the county to eight months in other parts. The three practical subjects of reading, writing and arithmetic comprised the main studies. The average daily attendance in the county was 38 students.

Nine months is the average school year today. And reading, writing and arithmetic are but three studies among a score or more subjects taught. Improved transportation facilities have swelled the regular daily school attendance.

The 13 school districts six decades ago, according to county educational records, were Chino, Riley, Temescal, Jappa, Santa Ana, San Salvador, American, San Timoteo, Warm Springs, Mt. Vernon, Mill, Mission and city.

$2,500 Fire Loss

Fire of unknown origin which early Saturday destroyed a garage, tractor shed and poultry house at the ranch home of John A. Zaveallas, 700 South Cypress Avenue, resulted in a loss of approximately $2,500, partially covered by insurance, according to announcement of the owner this afternoon.

The blaze snuffed out the lives of 200 chickens and the heat seriously damaged a tractor. Mr. Zaveallas, who was irrigating on his ranch at the time, himself discovered the blaze and turned in an alarm. The flames had gained such headway by the time the fire department arrived that little could be done but to prevent their spread to other nearby structures.

Will Expend $30,000

Continued growth of the Armstrong Nurseries, which enjoy the distinction of being the largest institution of their kind in the world, is seen in the announcement today of John S. Armstrong, head of the company, of plans in the making for the expansion of the offices of the concern at a cost of from $25,000 to $30,000.

Mr. Armstrong recently donated his former commodious dwelling at 404 North Euclid Avenue to Ontario Post, American Legion, for use as a club house, and as soon as this structure is moved to a site secured by the Legion on West E Street, it is the plan of the Armstrong company to erect a handsome modern office building at its present location to connect the present office building at 414 North Euclid Avenue, it is said.

The company, whose cut flower department has made a great growth since its inauguration about two years ago, is also contemplating extending that line of its activities, including the material enlargement of the present flower shop and the probable construction of additional hot-houses for the growing of more of their own flowers.

The Armstrong Nurseries comprises several hundred acres hereabouts and all kinds of nursery stock is handled, both for commercial and ornamental purposes. The company specializes on semi-tropical plants. Nursery stock is shipped not only to all parts of the United States, but to many foreign countries as well. A large office and sales force is maintained the year around and this is greatly increased during the rush season in the spring. The growth of the business has been so great in recent years that the additional office space has become a necessity.

Ice Man Pays Fine

A. H. Smith, age 47 years, employee of an Ontario ice manufacturing concern, was Friday afternoon found guilty in Judge George R. Holbrook's court on a charge of battery and drew a sentence of $25 fine or 25 days in jail. He paid.

Smith was arrested on complaint of Thomas Renfro, 128 Melrose Avenue, and charged with striking the latter's son, Clarence Renfro, age 20, over the head with a combination iron box opener and hammer. It was at first feared that the Renfro boy had sustained a fracture of the skull, but X-ray photographs failed to disclose a fracture.

The blows struck by Mr. Smith were in an effort to stop a fight between Clarence Renfro and his younger brother, Troy, on one side, and John Keller, ice company employee, on the other, it developed in court. The defendant admitted that in his haste he had used poor judgment.

A total of nine witnesses testified in the case. They were for the most part young boys who had witnessed the fight and with one or two exceptions recited a straightforward story of what had happened. When the two Renfro boys arrived at the ice plant, according to testimony, they were accosted by Keller who remarked that he had heard that they wanted to fight him and who declared that he was ready to take them on. After Keller had mugged up Clarence's face and incidentally broken the thumb of his left hand, Troy took on Keller and inflicted a cut over the other's right eye. When Troy was winded, Clarence again stepped into the "ring," and it was shortly thereafter that Smith decided to halt the fight and used the hammer to assist him.

Witnesses included the two Renfro boys, Crawford Brownlee, Robert Harvel, Arphus Carter, Norman Orr, Fenn Youngblood, John Keller and A. H. Smith. Deputy District Attorney C. O. Thompson prosecuted the case and Attorney Isaac Jones represented Mr. Smith. In pronouncing the verdict, Judge Holbrook declared it to be a case of technical guilt with no apparent criminal intent.

Clara B. Dossinger, recently elected president of the organization. Mrs. H. C. Williamson is to head the membership committee, which will number also Mrs. Paul Smith, Mrs. M. Lowry and Miss Clara Perrin.

Named on the entertainment committee are Mrs. Edna Crouse, chairman; Mrs. Gertrude V. White, Mrs. B. A. Archibald, Mrs. Laura Holsclaw, Mrs. W. D. Richardson and Miss Gladys Hohl.

The courtesy committee will number Mrs. Bertha Dee Ghoslin, chairman; Miss Ella M. Draper, Mrs. Laura Halfhill, Miss Rose Wersching and Mrs. Villa D. Johnston.

Mrs. D. D. McDonald was chosen by Mrs. Dossinger to head the press committee, which will number also Miss Dana Williams and Miss Olive Russell.

Other officers of the Association recently elected are: Miss Vina Danks, vice-president; Miss Anne Stoekel, treasurer; Mrs. Clara Westlund, secretary, and Mrs. Alma B. Spencer, chairman of the executive board.

Building Boosted

Thirty permits issued during the month just closed by City Building Inspector O. S. Roen represented an expenditure of $70,535 as against $61,110 for the corresponding month of last year, and against $59,585 for June of this year.

This makes the building total for the first seven months of the present year $461,870, a gain over the first seven months of 1924 of $7,557, the total to Aug. 1, 1924, having been $454,313.

Of the thirty permits issued during the past month, 19 or nearly two-thirds, were for new dwellings, which is looked upon as an excellent indication of the city's continued growth and progress.

The largest permit of the month went to J. B. Draper for the erection of a commodious brick veneer dwelling in Armsley Square at a cost of $16,500. The majority of the permits issued were for dwellings ranging in cost from $1,500 to $5,000.

Permits issued today included that to C. A. Louck for a 6-room frame and stucco dwelling at 618 Holmes Avenue, at a cost of $5,000, and to Mrs. Carrie P. Crawford for a 5-room frame dwelling in North Laurel Avenue, James E. Reid, contractor, at a cost of $2,700.

ARROWHEAD WATER SALES MOUNTING

Commercial value of the water from Arrowhead Hot Springs has been conclusively proven through the freight revenue statistics of the Pacific Electric Railway Company during the past month.

In the month of July a total of 71 cars of water were shipped from the Arrowhead Hot Springs. It was stated by F. E. Peachey, assistant superintendent. The cars have a capacity of 10,000 gallons each, giving the monthly shipments a total of 710,000 gallons, most of which were consumed in San Bernardino either for drinking purposes or used by carbonated soda bottling works and other commercial uses.

Most of the water used for drinking purposes was distributed in five-gallon glass bottles. Had the entire consumption for the month been distributed in this manner it would have filled 142,000 glass bottles of this size.

The value of the water from the Arrowhead Hot Springs for drinking purposes is winning favor in different parts of Southern California. One to two cars are shipped to Venice every week and a car or two is shipped to Los Angeles each week, while other beach points are securing smaller consignments of the water.

In glass-lined tank cars, the Pacific Electric Railway Company hauls the water to San Bernardino and other parts of the state. The shipments made during the month of July established a new high record for such a period and was 12 cars over the highest total for any previous month.

The shipments during July were largely augmented through the extreme heat period experienced for several days in that month, according to officials of the Pacific Electric Company, but they claim a marked increase in the demand for the water will show further gains this year.

A THRIFTY LOVER

"Why do you want your love letters returned?" asked the girl who had broken the engagement. "Are you afraid that I'll sue you in court?"

"No," sighed the young man, "but I paid quite a bit to have those letters written by an expert, and I may use them again some day." — American Legion Weekly.

Within the first year of the operation of the Adjusted Compensation Act hardly more than 50 per cent of the soldiers entitled to its benefits have applied for them.

CONSTRUCTION TO BEGIN VERY SOON

By virtue of a stipulation to submit to a board of arbitration the problem of fixing values of property on the east side of Arrowhead Avenue, between Third and Fourth Streets, San Bernardino, which the county sought to condemn for a courthouse site, building of the new structure may proceed at any time without awaiting court procedure, it was stated Saturday at the office of District Attorney George H. Johnson.

Money from bonds, however, will not be received until Oct. 1, at which time it is expected bids for construction will be opened. Architect Howard E. Jones, who has been preparing plans and specifications for the past several weeks, is nearing the end of his work, according to Chairman A. G. Kendall of the board of supervisors.

Four San Bernardino real estate dealers, W. H. Reed, J. C. Preston, Forrest E. Page and Noah Adair, have been selected as the board of arbitration, with instructions to complete their task within a reasonable time.

Agreement reached between the county and the property holders discloses that the decision of any three members of the board will be sufficient to constitute the verdict of the board.

Corner Will Be Settled by Suit Valuation of the property of the Joseph Bucher estate, at the corner of Third Street and Arrowhead Avenue, must be fixed by legal estate settlement requirements. Trial of this suit is scheduled to be held in the Riverside county superior court during September.

When the figures on the valuation of the various pieces of property are arrived at by the arbitration board, these will be entered into the judgment of the condemnation cases brought in superior court at San Bernardino. The valuation, according to the stipulated agreement, is to be fixed as of March 24, 1925, when the actions were filed.

THE TELEPHONE

Elizabeth was three years old and, what is more, Elizabeth, like most small girls, was very fond of games of "make believe." Her latest delight in the realm of fancy was "playing telephone," a game of which she never grew tired.

Her grandmother was well aware of Elizabeth's fancy and one night, when the little girl was proving obstinate about going to have her bath, the old lady thought she would try a little strategy. Grandmother (holding one end of the toy telephone)—Hello! Is that Elizabeth? (very delighted)—Yes, grandma! Grandmother—Well, come along, Elizabeth; it's time for your bath. Elizabeth (dropping receiver)—Wrong number!

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Pretty but inexpensive curtains for the kitchen can be made by using sugar sacks, one sack being big enough for one curtain. Wash and iron them, then trim ends even and hem. Trim with a small design in applique or stencil a design on them. A little starch added when the curtains are washed will give them a much better appearance.

Sardine Canape Skin and bone sardines. Mash and season highly adding a few drops of lemon juice. Spread on crackers, place a bit of parsley on each one and serve as a first course or appetizer.

Here's What It Costs One Uplander to Motor

Just what it costs a family to own and operate an automobile for ordinary purposes of running around and enjoying life as it is lived today is often guessed at and the guesses vary considerably.

Very few people take the time and trouble to keep accurate account of the expense of their machine and, after all, perhaps it does not matter much just what it is as long as we feel we have to have one and as long as we somehow are able to meet the expense.

However, some people do keep track of their motor expense and it may be interesting to know just what an average, medium-priced car does cost in operating expense and depreciation.

The one in question is a five-passenger, touring car of well-known make, owned and operated by the same family for a period of seven years, and then turned in on a new car of the same make. It was purchased during the war period when faulty inspection and lack of good mechanics in the factories caused somewhat more repair work than is usual during the first years of a car's use.

Although this car was used practically every day of the year, yet the mileage is small for seven years, less than 4000 miles per year. A greater mileage would reduce costs on some items, no doubt, yet it would increase expense on tires, gasoline, etc., so the general average would remain about the same.

Two adult members of the family drove the car usually and tried at all times to take reasonably good care of it, taking it to a garage whenever it needed "fixing" rather than trying to do it themselves. Following are the figures: May, 1918—

New car and accessories—$1,427.45
Ins. 1st year—$14.61
Smash-up, new fenders and repairs—18.50
Overhauling engine (twice)—108.78
Installing improved type pistons, and piston rings, etc.—141.80
Washing car, parking ex.—10.35
License, 8 times 49.70
Small repairs and repair parts—110.66
Cylinder oil—oil and grease labor—35.81
2 batteries and repairs—86.87

May, 1925—
5 new tires—$165.05
9 new tubes—39.70
2 Gates half soles—39.00
Tire and tube repairs—7.35

Gasoline—251.10
Total cost of car for 7 yrs.—$1,156.96 1,156.96

Re-sale value on new car (credited)—225.00
Net cost of operating 7 yrs.—$2,359.51
With a mileage of 22,500 miles the cost per mile would be 10½¢.

Cost per year would be $337.06, or about $1.00 per day; just about evenly divided between operating expense and depreciation.

Going back a few years we wonder how this cost compares with the expense of the "team and carriage" that the automobile has replaced. The writer has no figures on what such a turn-out would cost in these days (leaving out all question of difference in distances traveled) but recent costs on the maintenance of a ranch team, wagon and harness shows that it takes around $1.38 per day to feed a team and maintain equipment and this figure does not take into account depreciation of team, etc., that goes on from year to year.

All the above figures go to show that automobiles are really inexpensive luxuries and the pleasure and benefit to a family in owning and operating one far exceeds the actual cost.

LEMON MOST USEFUL OF ALL FRUITS

If none of the great class of citrus fruits was available, the lemon would be the most missed by the housewife. Without its use, scores of dishes would be "flat." Oversweet fruits are made more palatable by the use of a dash of lemon juice. The honeydew melon served with a little lemon juice gains a delicious piquancy. Lemon juice is a substitute for vinegar in the more delicate salad dressings, particularly for fruit salads. It is necessary in a large number of preserves and jellies, is a universal necessity in the preparation of meals and enters into scores of the most popular soft drinks. Although the lemon has an intensely sour flavor, it is classed among energy food because of its sugar content. It contains most of the valuable elements of the orange. It is particularly valuable in the diet of those suffering from malnutrition because it contains vitamins B and C, the first of which is now known to stimulate growth. No foods are known to contain so much vitamin B as oranges, lemons and tomatoes. Lemon juice is one of the best appetizers among the fruit juices, in combination with other food products.

Lemon juice in water without sugar is an excellent tonic to take upon first rising in the morning. "Lemon cocktail" not only a mouth sweetener and appetizer, but a gentle laxative as well.

Lastly, nature has provided in the lemon a real toilet aid. Lemon juice, clear or diluted with pure water, is an excellent bleach for those whose skin easily freckles or tans. It is also valuable for manicuring, as it removes stains from the fingers and nails. Many professional beauty parlors use a lemon rinse with every shampoo. It cuts the curd often formed by the use of soap and leaves the hair soft, clean and fluffy. It is good also as an occasional dentifrice. It is an excellent astringent for flabby necks and cheeks, and is said to be much used in the tropics in foot baths, to relieve tired, swollen feet—Citrus Leaves

SOME TYPES DO NOT REQUIRE WEIGHT FEE

According to a bulletin just received from the Division of Motor Vehicles by the legal department of the National Automobile Club, all automobiles registered on and after July 24, 1925, with a box body or similar body used, incidentally or occasionally by individuals for the transportation of produce, personal effects, etc., will not be required to pay an additional weight fee.

However, an affidavit must be made covering the uses to which this vehicle is put by the owner, incidentally or occasionally, and setting forth that at no time does the owner of such vehicle use same primarily or principally for the transportation of property.

Such affidavit of facts will be required on each application for license for such a vehicle as described above. A skeleton form of affidavit to be used when registering automobiles equipped with box bodies and used only occasionally or incidentally, has been approved by the State Motor Vehicle Department.

SANTA BARBARA NEEDS A LIFT

to be an exodus of people from Santa Barbara.

Mr. Richmond, who owns the Arlington Hotel, and who is well known by several men in the party yesterday, extended a hearty welcome to the newspaper men and on learning why we were there, it was with tears in his eyes that he said, "It's mighty fine of you fellows to come way up here. We want people to know just what we are up against. We may have made mistakes in our rebuilding, but when the earth shakes, it gets your nervous system; it wrecks your equilibrium and with a lot of our fellows here, it's unseated their spirit. We business men, the vast majority of us, can't refinance ourselves, but the outfall sewer, the Welfare Center, the St. Francis Hospital, and temporary school buildings are things that if not taken care of immediately will tend to wreck Santa Barbara's future and delay our getting back on a former basis five or ten years."

Mr. Richmond's property, the Arlington Hotel, where two were killed in the quake, has been condemned, and Mr. Richmond plans on removing the entire wreckage and rebuilding on a new plan of the mission type.

To Meet Wednesday Night

Men and women of the county will meet in San Bernardino Wednesday night, there being a call for representatives from hundreds of organizations in every community and at the meeting they will decide just how the $26,230 is to be collected. If some one should ask you to help, do what you can, for in the years to come you will feel that you were one who assisted a neighbor city to travel a rough and rugged road. Don't think that $1 or $5 is too small; it all helps and the sum total is really not a great amount for this county to raise.

Santa Barbara County has taken its pro rata just as other counties are doing, and has already paid the money into the fund.

This and That

Little chance of a hot wind or dry spell causing a drop, and with orchard heating system complete in all its details, about the only thing that may do some damage is wind.

We can't stop the wind blowing, but with more trees and more buildings going skyward between here and territory to the east, there is a gradually growing tendency toward slowing up the wind, thus doing away with serious damage.

With Florida having but half-crop, Southern California growers should again be able to get an excellent price for their fruit, for its getting to be a foregone conclusion right here in this section that our growers can fight Jack Frost to a standstill.

PHILO VS FACT

"Cheer up, Tom—it's an ill wind that blows nobody good, you know."

"Well—this wind that depresses me is the wind in a saxophone next door."
